REJOICINGS AT WASHINGTON.

In describing the scenes witnessed in the streets of Washington, on the announcement of the passage of the California Bill, the National Intelligencer says:

While all eyes were intent upon these wonderous sights, there came stealing upon the ear the well-loved strains of the Marine band, which passed along the avenue with a longer trail than any comet ever wore; and halting in front of the National Hotel, (from every window of which poured forth a golden blaze of glory!) up went the shout, "Hurra! hurra! hurra! for Senator Gwinn, of California!" and this was followed by the inspiriting strains of the band. The serenading party next proceeded to the vicinity of the apartments of Henry Clay, and in shouts and music manifested their gratitude to the gallant old statesman and patriot. Neither of these gentlemen responded. Mr. Clay, we learn, had left the city for his accustomed retreat, the private mansion of Mr. Calvert, beyond Blandensburg.

Senator Foote was next visited, at his lodgings, at the corner of Four-and-a-half and C streets. He responded most eloquently and ardently and drew forth the hearty applause of the multitude.

General Cass was then visited, at the Potomac House, and from him also a fine address was elicited.

Mr. Cobb, Speaker of the House of Representatives, at Gadsby's, also responded most appropriately.

Senator Douglas, at his lodgings, opposite the Potomac House, was next visited. His response was thrillingly eloquent.

At Brown's Hotel, Senators Houston and Rusk were greeted, and replied in warm and ardent terms.

Mr. Webster had a dining party at his house. He came forth amidst the deafening applause of the multitude, and delivered one of the most terse, vivid, and eloquent little addresses that ever fell even from his lips.

Mr. Hilliard, of Alabama, was one of Mr. Webster's guests, and was recognized by the people, when his name went up with a shout of delight and enthusiasm; and to say that he was himself is to say that he spoke eloquently, and as a man of warm heart and genuine patriotism.

There was unanimity of sentiment amongst all these speakers. They spoke as men who loved the union of the States, and as men whose hearts were full of joy that the counsels had prevailed of those who could sacrifice every thing but honor for the welfare of their common country.

THE QUEEN OF ENGLAND.—We cut the following excellent toast from the report of a convivial reunion which took place at Cape Town, south Africa, March 12th, as given in the Launceston, (Van Dieman's Land) Examiner of June 29th:

Victoria—Blameless in all the tenderest relations of life, and illustrious in the highest—as a daughter, a wife, a mother, and a queen.

We have never seen a better sentiment touching her Majesty. She and Jenny Lind, at the present moment, occupy a place in the minds of men superior to that of any others of the sex; the one as queen of song, the other as queen of men. We have always felt a degree of pride and affection for the illustrious female who presides over the destinies of the great British Empire, such as we could feel towards no other potentate out of our own country. And we believe this is a very common feeling among all Americans. It arises, of course, not from loyalty, but from her being of our own race; and more than all from her being eminently deserving of our regard and esteem. There is no true man in the United States, who does not rejoice in her prosperity, and hope to see her live long to direct the mighty destinies of England.

CALIFORNIA GOLD—ITS EFFECTS ON THE CURRENCY.

What will be the effect on the ultimate value of gold, produced by the immense discoveries of that metal in California, is a subject of serious speculation. 'A thing,' says Butler, 'is worth as much as it will bring." And, according to this doctrine, if a superabundance of gold is thrown upon the market, the value must decline with the demand. The value of coin is regulated by act of Congress, but if the material increases to abundance, the value of gold for every other purpose than circulation, must decline.

Professor Tucker, of Virginia, estimates that the present amount of the precious metals in Europe and America may be put down at $4,663.000,000. This, he says, is less than the estimate of Mr. Gallatin, and more than that of Mr. Jacobs. He says, should the products of California reach $100,000,000 a year, the annual addition would more than double the past contributions of the American mines in their greatest productiveness. His conclusions are that one of the most obvious effects of the enormous and unprecedented increase of gold, will be to alter the proportion between silver and gold. Another consequence will be, that in all countries in which gold continues to be a legal tender, its depreciation and the duration of their contracts. Further, the great cheapness of gold will multiply gold watches, gold ornaments for the person, silver gilt utensils and gilding generally, while it will lessen the value of gold previously in existence. Two other consequences are anticipated, a stimulus to enterprise and productive industry of every kind, and greater facilities to the banking institutions of the country to increase their loans and extend their issues, with a view to further profit. Should these views prove correct, the effect will be salutary for a time, until the period of reaction arrives.

One effect which the gold discoveries have had, is the annual stampede of the producers of the country, and the consequent abandonment of those pursuits which gave wealth to the giant States of the West. The progress of the young States, for the last few years, has been enormous, but this heavy emigration has measurably crippled them. The products of the country, since the discoveries of gold, have not, therefore, increased in the same ratio as formerly, but have possibly declined. Immigration, however, must soon fill up the chasm, and emigration cease as the California fever declines, as decline it must. The true wealth of a country is in its productive industry, a fact which gold seekers are apt to overlook.

SALMON CREEK MINES.—We conversed with a gentleman who arrived in this city yesterday, in fifteen days from Salmon Creek, one of the tributaries of the Klamath river. He states that the place where he worked was about one hundred miles from Trinidad Bay, and one hundred and thirty from Shasta city.

Our informant says he should have remained during the winter but for a report, which was very generally believed before he left, that a party of eight had been murdered by the Indians, which he has since learned was untrue. He tells us that about two hundred men have been at work during the summer, upon Salmon Creek, and that half of this number will winter there. Parties during the summer have occasionally crossed over from the Trinity, but have very generally returned to that stream.

Mining operations have generally paid very well, averaging from eight to sixteen dollars.—[Sac. Transcript.

Some twenty years since, when two negroes were hung in Boston, their bodies were claimed by the surgeons, and subjected to galvanic experiments by Dr. J.W. Webster.

☞ Mr. Heydenfeldt, of this city, is engaged to defend the indicted squatters at Sacramento, whose trials were to commence yesterday.

KLAMATH GOLD MINES, River and Town.—One of the most extensive fields for speculation at present in California.

The attention of the public is now called to this very important part of California. The town of Klamath is situated on the bank and at the vicinity of the mouth of a river, upon the numerous tributaries of which the most productive and extensive gold mines have been discovered of any now in existence in California. The Harbor (at the upper end of which this beautiful town site is situated) is both commodious and secure, and possesses the very superior advantage over all the other ports upon the coast between the Columbia river and San Francisco of a perfectly safe entrance. The river is a magnificent stream and navigable by steamers, according to the opinion of steamboat captains and others in every way competent to judge of the matter, at least 70 miles up; at, and even below which point, these very rich gold mines commence. Merchants and capitalists who are desirous of realizing a handsome profit upon their goods and an enormous return for their capital cannot enter into a better speculation or make a more safe investment of their means in any part of California, from the fact that there are at present about 2000 miners at work upon this river and its tributaries; and there is every reason to believe, from the numerous satisfactory statements of the miners, relative to their success during the last year, that next year there will be many times the number. The immediate rush to these mines from all parts will be immense, and in fact almost unprecedented; and this town, which may be said to be adjacent, in consequence of the water communication into the very heart of them, must and will undoubtedly be insured a speedy and almost magic growth, and by this time next year will be a very respectable rival to (if not totally eclipsing,) Sacramento and Stockton. Miners who have, during the last summer expended to such a deplorable extent their useless toil and labor in the southern mines, and have actually lost money in the place of making it, by the unsuccessful and numerous damming operations, and the scarcity of gold there, are strongly recommended to turn their attention to these mines, as the average amount dug last year, putting it at an infinitely lower estimate than from the statements of the miners we would be warranted in putting it, one ounce per day to the man. This alone is sufficient to justify the opinion that there is ample room for more, and when it is taken into consideration that not over one-tenth part of the gold region has as yet been explored, the certainty of room is rendered beyond doubt. The enormous tax upon the miners for packing of provisions will next year be effectually obviated by the aid of water communication, which extends into the very heart of the mines. Goods can be taken from the deck of steamers by the miners in the place of the pack-saddle of the mule, and provisions now furnished at an expense of $1 50 for the mere packing, can be afforded for ten cents, thus enabling the miner to lay by the fruits of their labor, instead of expending so great a quota for subsistence. To persons wishing to invest capital to an advantage in town lots, an almost unparalleled money making speculation is now open; as lots at the present time can be procured at a comparatively low figure, and the price that they will be disposed of next spring will be high. Arrangements have been made for a steamer to ply between the town and the mines, which will warrant to miners the supply of provisions forthwith.

A map of the town and river can be seen at Messrs. Shultz & Palmer's, foot of Jackson street; at Bullett & Patrick's, corner of Jackson and Sansome streets; and at Worthington, Beale & Bunting's.

NO CAUSE FOR REJOICING.

☞ The Courier takes us to task for crowing a little over the result of the elections in the old States. It imagines we have nothing to boast of in Iowa. Perhaps not, if an increased democratic majority in the popular vote, an increased majority on joint ballot, afford no cause of congratulation. Indiana, the Courier thinks, is not a doubtful State. Every year, since the hard cider orgies of 1840, when the strongest democratic States faltered, the whigs have been blowing a cheering blast over the result in Indiana. Since that drunken campaign, we have always been thankful for small favors in that State. The whigs have claimed victories enough to have sunk the democratic party beyond political resurrection.

In North Carolina it was not a party election. Oh, no! There is always some excuse for a whig defeat, other than political condemnation. "No cause for crowing over North Carolina, for she is whig all over, and will show herself so the next election," is the consolatory language of our whig neighbor. The editor, as well as the whig party generally, reminds us of the man "who never is, but always to be blessed."

Then, again, Kentucky affords no ground for congratulation. Not the least! If we had carried every member of the constitutional convention, the whigs would have thrown up their hats over the election of a constable, and pronounced it a victory! In Connecticut, according to our editorial neighbor, the whigs were beaten "by fraud." Every other apology for a defeat having been exhausted, this ghost of "corruption" is brought to life to take the curse off. The editor of the Courier conjures up a vision of this kind about as frequently as any whig partizan in christendom.

We did not pretend to "crow" over Missouri, but lamented only the errors of our political friends, by which whiggery was permitted to raise its head above the dust, where the democratic avalanches had lain it in times past, and to which it must return as soon as the "sober second thoughts" of the people prevail against excited personal preferences.

CITY ORDINANCES.—We hear a good deal of complaint amongst our citizens, because of the fact that the ordinances passed by the Common Council are not as generally promulgated amongst the people as they should be, in order to have the acts of the two Boards perfectly understood. A willing obedience to the law cannot be expected, without a knowledge of it being communicated to our citizens. We are asked, almost every day, if such and such requirements have been passed by the Common Council, and are obliged to refer to the files of the only paper in which the ordinances appear, for information. Were they published in handbill form, or some other method adopted to ensure their general circulation, there would be less trouble in enforcing the provisions of the ordinances. We throw out these suggestions for the benefit of the Common Council.

NOT STRONG ENOUGH.—Shippers in the States, who send to California, liquid articles in barrels, do not put them up strong enough. A day or two since one firm in town received an invoice of one hundred barrels of molasses, and on examination, seventy-five of them were found bursted. The different climates through which they had passed, had caused the damage. We are informed by the Port Warden that there are now in the bay, at least three thousand empty barrels, which contained molasses and liquors when they left the States.

A SNUG OPERATION.—A merchant of Stockton, named Capt. Sparrow, was relieved of $5,000, at Sacramento on Sunday evening. He had collected that amount, and was about taking it home, when an individual whom he had seen in Stockton, proposed placing it in a box for safe keeping, and offered his services to protect it. Some time after, the gentleman had occasion to examine the box, where he found a bag of shot had been substituted for the glittering oro!

...f a ...ange of ours, ...ly received from New York. It is an ably conducted journal, devoted to the interests of those of the Jewish faith. We are always glad to see periodicals like this, which tend to quench rather than foster sectarianism, while they spread abroad intelligence among the masses. The truth is, and but few appear aware of it, that men are not so widely apart as confessions and creeds have adjudged them to be. The wisest of men has said: "As in water face answereth to face, so the heart of man to man," and we rest our belief on this.

The name of sect or party, has been to many a stigma, a brand too indelibly fixed to be erased or forgotten. This is all wrong. We go for "principles, not men," or names; and it is a libel too foul for us to believe, that the pot may say to the kettle, "Art thou not black!" The old Scotch were right: "A man's a man for a' that." And so we believe.

Not many months since, one of our cotemporaries took occasion to perpetrate an infliction upon a class of our citizens, which, we will venture to affirm, contains as many worthy members of society in it as any other class among us, by calling a man who had done something thought reprehensible, "a Jew." And not two weeks ago, we heard one of our most esteemed lawyers, in open court make use of the same slang.

Now, we say again, this is all wrong. It comes down from the "dark ages." In every other country but our own, the Israelite is still an outcast. In England he is in a transition; but step by step of the progress he is opposed. In the glorious language of our Declaration of Independence, with us, "all men are created free and equal." We hold to this. It is American to do so; and to bring up in the affairs of every day life, or elsewhere, the odium theologicum, is as nonsensical as it would be to debate with the schoolmen, as to how many angels could dance on the point of a cambric needle!

In the cities of New York, Philadelphia, Charleston, Mobile and New Orleans, the people of Hebrew extraction are every whit as respectable as those of Anglo-Saxon. And who in those cities ever saw one of that race a begging, intoxicated, or arraigned for an infamous crime. They are closely watched by the suspicious; and if a pedlar is accused of cheating, he may go unnoticed in nine cases out of ten, unless he belongs to the class whose wit outwits the Yankee, and then the stigma of 'Jew' is affixed upon him. Let every one, of whatever name he is called, stand upon his own merits and deserts, and equal justice be meted out to all.

The era of the Maccabees will then again have dawned upon the world, in a brighter glory than that of the old princes, and the "Asmonean" of our exchange list, will not have been named in vain.

CHOLERA REMEDIES.—We have never known the cholera to prevail in a locality, but what it brought out a thousand and one remedies, from persons who have fancied themselves attacked, and were wonderfully preserved by a resort to certain remedies. It is well enough, perhaps, on the first appearance of cholera symptoms, to resort to laudanum &c., as stringent remedies, but the safest plan is to call in an experienced physician, of any school you please, whose familiarity with the effects of medicine, will ensure the administering of remedies naturally designed to arrest the disease. Dosing one's self with nostrums, is dangerous business in cholera localities. They may cure, but death will claim a majority of the victims.

☞ We think, with the Courier, that Col. Moore, the Postmaster, does every thing in his power to accommodate the public. His clerks, generally, are efficient and obliging. The press have certainly no ground of complaint, or at least but occasional cause. The newspaper department presided over by Mr. Short, cannot be improved. From the mass of confused matter that passes under his hands, he usually produces order, in a very short space of time.

FOR UMPQUA VALLEY.—By reference to our advertising columns, it will be seen that the enterprising house of Winchester, Paine & Co., will despatch another vessel for this charming portion of Oregon, next Wednesday, 30th inst. The vessel will sail positively, and an early call at the office of the Company, foot of Washington street, will be necessary to secure a passage.

OH, AH!—The Courier says, "no one is to be sent out here with a commission in his pocket, unless there is an absolute necessity necessity for it.' The "necessity," we suppose, is getting rid of some clamorous office-seeker at home.

☞ See the first and fourth pages of to-day's paper, for sundry articles of interest.

FEDERAL MONEY.—It has long been a mooted point to determine the origin of the sign ($), which we in common with many other nations use to indicate dollars, in placing it before one or more figures. Schoolmasters and accountants on the Atlantic side, would have us believe that this is an American device, formed since the adoption of the present system of currency in 1789. They even assert that it is but a contraction for the abbreviation U. S., the S being written over the U. But the dollar is not an American coin in origin, nor is it likely that the sign ($), for it is, as used in all nations where it is known is American either. It rather occurs to us, that as the Spanish dollar, is much older than Federal money. So "ps." the Spanish abbreviation for peso, is contracted into $, and thus the whole difficulty is resolved. Those familiar with Spanish accounts, or even with the commercial forms for per and ad will readily understand how this contribution in writing took place.

A FEMALE AERONAUT.—Mrs. Graham, with three of her daughters and son, ascended from Baywater, recently, in a new baloon, called Victoria and Albert. The party descended safely in Richmond Park. Mrs. Graham has written as follows to one of the papers:

"I cannot omit noticing the extraordinary admiration of my daughter Alice, who accompanied me on Friday night from Vauxhall Gardens at the astounding view of London at midnight, being the first and only attempt made by females to conduct the management of a balloon at night, and so much pleased am I with the nerve exhibited by those of my daughters who have hitherto accompanied me (four in number,) that if, on trial, I find the others of equal spirit, which I doubt not, I feel disposed (God willing) to ascend with my seven daughters at the great national exhibition in 1851."

MURDER OF MINERS.—A correspondence of the Stockton Journal, dated Sonora, Oct. 21st, states that "two men were murdered last evening about 6 o'clock, on the road leading from this place to Sullivans and scarcely half a mile from town. They were cut horribly. One I knew personally, his name was Burke; the other name I have not learned. They had been in town during the day, and were on their way home. These men were miners, and had been working for a year past in Sullivan's, and were evidently murdered for money, as the pockets of one was turned inside out. The murderers failed in reaping a harvest, as the victims had but little gold on their persons, amounting in all to about $200, which was gone. No arrest as yet.

RE-COUNTING THE BALLOTS.—The citizens of Placerville have just held a public meeting to regulate certain affairs connected with the election. At the close of the polls, Dr. N. P. Taplin was declared elected Justice of the Peace by thirteen majority. The next day another count was had—the ballot box, in the mean time, having been open to sundry persons—and his opponent, M. Humphrey, was found to have twenty-two votes more than the day previous! The probability is, that all the "sovereigns" had not voted, but notwithstanding, a public meeting was held, and the whole proceeding, together with the county clerk, bitterly denounced for the alleged fraud.

A DARK VERDICT—A colored man was found dead in one of the streets of Sacramento, and the coroner summoned a jury of Africans. After wise deliberation and dignified official cogitation, the jury returned the following verdict, three of them signing their names, and the remainder adding their marks:

"The deceased came to his death by causes unknown to the jury, but in our belief by the act of God. In testimony whereof the jurors of this inquest, all being colored men, and free citizens of the State of California, and now one of the United States of America, have hereunto set our hands, the day and year aforesaid."

AUCTION SALES.—Henry B. Lafite & Co., at 10 o'clock this morning, and sell the entire cargo of brig Domingo.

Jas. B. Huie & Co., Montgomery street, at 10 o'clock, will dispose of a large variety of groceries, and other articles.

CHOLERA AT SACRAMENTO.—Five persons died of cholera at Sacramento on Tuesday, but not so many new cases as on the day previous. A hospital has been prepared for cholera patients, and the authorities seem to be acting promptly, and with creditable energy.

REDUCED.—The steamer Mariposa has reduced the fare between this city and Stockton. This little river craft is exceedingly popular.

FOUND GUILTY.—Alexander, who committed the assault upon Col. Grant, at Sacramento, has been found guilty, and fined $500.

GRAND CELEBRATION

In honor of the Admission of California into the Union of States.

Grand Lodge of Masons of the State of California.

The officers of the Grand Lodge, together with the Master, Wardens, and Members of the several Lodges under the jurisdiction of the Grand Lodge of the State, as well as all master masons in good standing, are invited to unite in the approaching celebration.

The Lodges in this city will make the necessary arrangements for the reception of visiting brethren.

The only regalia to be worn on this occasion, except that worn by the regular officers of Lodges, will be the white apron and white gloves.

All masons intending to unite in the celebration, will assemble at Masonic Hall, Kearny street, punctually at 9 o'clock on the morning of the 29th inst. By order of the most worshipful Grand Master,

J. D. STEVENSON.

JOHN H. GIHON, Sec'y.

ROYAL ARCH MASONS.—A meeting of Royal Arch Masons was held on Wednesday evening, at eight o'clock, in the Mayor's Office, City Hall, Hon. John W. Geary presiding, John W. Gihon, Secretary.

It was on motion,

Resolved, That the members of California Royal Arch Chapter, and all Royal Arch Masons in good standing, be invited to join in the ceremonies commemorative of the admission of California as a State into the American Union, to take place on Tuesday next.

Resolved, That the regalia worn be a white apron, white gloves, and a scarlet badge in the left lapel of the coat.

Companion P. A. Brinsmade was appointed High Priest for the occasion, with power to supply all vacant offices; and companion J. J. Papy was unanimously chosen Marshal.

J. W. GEARY, Chair'n

J. H. GIHON, Sec'y.

NAVAL.—The British man-of-war that anchored at Saucelito on Wednesday night, was the Dædalus, returned from a cruise to the northward."

The above is from our marine reporter. In every sea and clime do we see the evidences of England's power and greatness. Long before our people had come to inhabit this coast, every nook and corner of it was well known to the naval marine of England. And so now are the seas and coasts of many a region called "unknown." In the keeping of the naval service of that country, is a mass of hydrographical and topographical information, that does credit to the civilized world. In this field of valuable research, what countries besides our own and that of our venerable mother, can have any claims to praise like this?

A USEFUL WORK.—Marvin & Hitchcock, stationers and booksellers in the Herald building, Montgomery street, have just received a valuable work entitled "The Spanish Teacher and Colloquial Phrase Book; an easy and agreeable method of acquiring a speaking knowledge of the Spanish language." Those who are desirous of acquiring a knowledge of Spanish, should immediately procure a copy of this work. It is well got up, and will be found an excellent assistant. The work is published by Thompson & Hitchcock, the agents of Gregory's Express in New York.

CHOLERA AT ALVISO.—A letter from a friend at San Jose, says that news had just reached there, that two deaths had occurred from cholera at Alviso. Yesterday morning a report was current at San Jose, that a man had died in that city of the same disease.

NICE PIES.—Our old friend, Col. Almy, who was one of the victims of the fire, has opened his Bakery again, in rear of the Washington Baths. His pies are of the choicest kinds. We recommend them most cordially to the lovers of good eating.

LEFT THE COUNTRY.—Allen, at whose house Sheriff McKinney was killed during the squatter outbreak, the Transcript states, has been seen in Mazatlan, which place he left for the States, by way of Mexico and Vera Cruz.

Ecclesiastical.—Monsignor Alemani, Bishop of San Francisco, and of all California, has gone from Paris to Dublin to recruit some Irish priests for the mission among the British settlers in California.

☞ Dr. Collyer's "Models" continue to draw crowds. His glorification tableaux was a decided hit. He should produce it with increased brilliancy on Tuesday evening next.

FIREMEN'S NOTICE.—The attention of the various fire companies of the city, is directed to the notice in another column.

RESIGNATION.—A morning paper states that Judge Morse has sent to the Governor his resignation as Chief Justice, to take effect on the 5th of November.

Correspondence of the Pacific News.

SACRAMENTO CITY, Oct. 23.

Editor of Pacific News;

The Squatter trials are all the talk here now. To-day the prisoners indicted for murder in the squatter riots were arraigned, and plead "not guilty," and they, by their counsel, Heydenfelt and Tweed, moved for a change of venue, which was not granted on the affidavit of defendants, the court saying "it would require other proof." The case will be heard again soon, and the change probably granted to Solano county.

There are eight lawyers employed by the squatters, but they are not sharp. There is a point on which the Court would be bound to let them off, and the counsel do not see it.

The jury in the case of The People vs. Gom Sung and Chu Chu, (Chinese) indicted for robbery, came in with a verdict of "not guilty," after a a few minutes consultation.

Three other prisoners were ordered discharged by the court, the prosecution not being able to find witnesses.

Business is brisk and building going on rapidly. How will you trade streets with us? J.

OUR COURTS.—By reference to our Law Reports from day to day, it will be seen that a vast amount of business in the way of litigation is disposed of at the City Hall. This business will probably continue and increase, even though, as one of our Judges properly remarked, "year in and year out, we have no vacation in the Courts." This amount of business must "pay" somebody.

THE BALL.—This affair will undoubted be the fete of California. It will indeed! The ladies are preparing their prettiest dresses and sweetest smiles, and will render the occasion brilliant beyond description. Wives and widows, married and single, old and young, beauty and ugliness, (very little of the latter in California) will grace the hall, and whirl through the mazy dance.

☞ Every Society and organized body in this city, we believe, without an exception, is making preparations to engage in the grand celebration of Tuesday next. Its like, in point of numbers and general rejoicing, will probably never be witnessed again in California. The display will undoubtedly be worthy the occasion.

THE ADMISSION FESTIVAL——The busy note of preparation warns us that this will be a grand affair. All classes and conditions of men among us will be represented in it, and we doubt not that a demonstration will be made every way worthy of our young State.

THE CELEBRATION.—A programme of the intended procession on the day of the celebration, was published in last evening's Picayune, but by request of the Grand Marshal, we omit it—probably for the reason that it is not yet perfect.

CELEBRATION AT SAN JOSE.

[Correspondence of the Pacific News.]

SAN JOSE, Oct. 23.

Messrs. Editors:—Yesterday was a great day with us. Early in the morning the Eagle Guards, a company just formed in our city, began to parade the principal streets, making a magnificent appearance with their appropriate dress and the quickness and precision of their evolutions. Shortly after came the Free Masons, quite a number of them; and finally, a long procession of the citizens of San Jose and the adjacent country. Having marched round town nearly an hour, we adjourned to the Legislative Hall to listen to an oration from Wm. Claude Jones, Esq. He acquitted himself very creditably, keeping up the interest he had excited until the close of his remarks. I have seldom listened to a better worded and more fervid address. He dwelt with particular force on the future destiny of this new country, and drew a vivid picture of her coming prosperity and importance. At the close, a flag was presented with some appropriate remarks by the speaker to Capt. T. M. White, from the commissioned and non-commissioned officers of the Eagle Guards. The captain replied in fine style, after which, the Guards sang "The Star-Spangled Banner," with much applause.

At night, came off the Celebration Ball. The room was crowded. I have never seen so much female beauty collected at one time in any place in California. I saw General W. among the crowd, impatient for a chance to get into the magic circle. Altogether, the day went off magnificently, the ball adjourning at half past one. Yours,

OBSERVATOR.

EMIGRANTS.—Several emigrant families, on their way to the lower valley, halted on our levee, on Sunday last, for a few hours. They had with them good ox teams, and a small stock of cattle, which bore some evidence of the long tramp they had performed across the plains. We never see in California one of these families, belonging to the agricultural portion of our people, that we do not wish them, heartily, a happy home in the new land of their adoption, and a success pecuniarily, which will allow the parents to start every youthful member upon the great campaign of life, with sufficient amunition to aid him comfortably through the battle.—[Stockton Jour.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE OF THE MEDICAL SOCIETY.

At a general meeting of the Medical profession of San Francisco, the undersigned were appointed a committee to address the citizens of San Francisco and its vicinity on the all-engrossing subject of Cholera. In the absence of a properly constituted Board of Health, the importance and necessity of such a step should not, we think, be questioned

Fear is acknowledged by all to be one of the most powerful predisposing and exciting causes; and should the committee happily succeed in quieting the fears of a considerable portion of their fellow-citizens, they will have accomplished much. They believe that amongst that portion of the community who can command the ordinary essential comforts of life, the cholera is little to be dreaded; but should such be attacked, they confidently believe, in the vast majority of cases, that the disease can be arrested, and its developments prevented, by a timely resort to the proper remedies.

The committee would urge that the disease is not contracted by attendance on the sick—that there is no prudence in attempting to fly from the disease, inasmuch as there is much more danger in flying from the disease than in remaining quietly at home, where the accustomed habits of life can be maintained with regard to the mode of life, diet, &c. Common observation should teach us that that mode of life which under other circumstances proves most conducive to health, should during the prevalence of an epidemic, be the course adopted and pursued—avoiding excesses of every kind, particularly such articles of food as are of doubtful digestion; all sudden changes of habit are prejudicial in their tendencies. Regularity of habit, attention to cleanliness in eating and clothing, as well as sleeping, are among the most important sanitary precautions, and must be insisted on. All exhausting influences must be very carefully avoided, as predisposing directly to the disease.

The committee deem the symptoms too well known to require description, and will content themselves by cautioning their fellow citizens against neglecting all irregularities of digestion; against all specifics and preventive remedies. The first indication in the treatment of cholera is stop the disease. The second is to cure it. With regard to the remedies to be applied in the first stages of the disease, we have spoken of them before. The cure of the disease must devolve upon the physician call.

in attendance. The committee would most earnestly and respectfully urge on the citizens generally, the propriety of advising with their respective physicians as to the best mode of procedure in case of sudden attack. In conclusion, they would solemnly impress the community of the importance of promptness of action, and the fatal danger of delay, inasmuch as many slight and trifling attacks may prove fatal from an hour's neglect.

They have been familiar with cholera in many parts of the world, and have never seen any good reason for believing it to be a contagious disease.

IMPORTANT NEWS from NICARAGUA by the steamer California.—Hon. E. G. Squier, late Minister from the Government of the United States to Central America, reports that: "In passing from one ocean to the other, by way of Nicaragua, $15 will suffice to transport a passenger across the country. Tolerable accommodations may be obtained for about $9, and one may go across in a cart for $7. The Nicaragua route is by many a mile nearer to all the ports of the United States, and the salubrity of the climate must be deemed an advantage that Panama cannot possess."

...d Manks, of ..., undertook, ... sum of fifty pounds, to walk one thousand miles in one thousand hours; which task he accomplished successfully, but was a good deal worsted at the conclusion, although he walked the last mile in nine minutes, which is at the rate of six and a half miles per hour. The achievement does not consist in the distance that is walked in a thousand hours, as that is at the rate of but twenty-four miles a day, (which a very ordinary walker could accomplish, without difficulty, for forty days in succession,) but in supporting, for that period of time, the deprivation of sleep, or getting it in such broken doses and at such short intervals, as to make it but little refreshing. In Mank's case, it was made a condition that he should commence his mile at the beginning of every consecutive hour, which made it much more laborious. The celebrated pedestrian, Captain Barclay, performed the same feat, and it was thought to be a remarkable one; but he had this advantage of Manks, that he was only bound to walk a mile in the hour, selecting his own time: so that by walking a mile in the beginning of one hour, and another towards the conclusion of the next, he might have in the interim ot least an hour and a half for repose; whereas Manks could only get about half that much sleep at one time.

The English must be easily amused. During the last days of Manks' walking, there was continually a great crowd of spectators, who seemed to take as much interest in what was going on as if there were some question of great and vital importance depending on the result, when it was, in fact, nothing more than fifty pounds sterling.

DEATH OF THE REV. DR. JUDSON.—The Boston Traveller, of the 6th of September, says:—By the overland mail from India, the painful intelligence has this day reached the Missionary Rooms, of the decease of Rev. Adoniram Judson, D.D., senior missionary of the American Baptist Missionary Union. He died on the 12th of April last, on board the French bark Aristide Marie, of Bordeaux, bound for the isle of Bourbon, at the age of 62. Dr. J. left Maulmain, on the 3d of April, accompanied by Mr. T. S. Ranney, in compliance with the directions of his physician. Mrs. J. would have gone with him but it was at the hazard of her life, and he would not consent. For a day or two hope and fear alternated, but before the pilot left the vessel, he felt so much revived as to dictate a message to Mrs. Judson, expressing a confident belief that he would recover. Scarcely, however, had the pilot got off when he relapsed, and suffered great pain, which continued till he was released by death He was buried in the sea, on the same evening, in latitude 13 degrees north, longitude 93 degrees east, within the range of islands that run down to the straits of Mallacca, within nine days after the embarkation. Dr. Judson embarked for the East in 1812, and has thus been more than thirty-eight years in the missionary service.

NICARAGUA CANAL AND TRANSPORTATION ROUTE.—Intelligence is received by the officers of the American Atlantic and Pacific Canal Company, that the object of ascending the San Juan river, has well nigh been accomplished by ascending the Colorado, the southern embouchure of the San Juan. The steamer Nicaragua had reached a point within four miles of the latter river, without any difficulty. The depth of water varied from four to five often six, and sometimes eight fathoms. During the last mile, in consequence of the river passing around an island, forming two channels, the water was less favorable to navigation, but as the season was dry, it was confidently expected that, when the river should have risen a little, the boat would be able to proceed to the San Juan and upward to Lake Nicaragua, on which she was to run. The 'Director,' which arrived at San Suan de Nicaragua, August 2d, was to leave San Juan for Nicaragua, in two or three days.—The agent of the company writes that 'there is no sort of difficulty in the way of her going up without any interruption.' Mr. Childs, the chief engineer and party, had gone to examine the Machuca and Castillo Rapids, and report respecting their depth, &c. [N.Y. Express, 9th Sept.

ANOTHER CHURCH.—Preparations are going forward at Sacramento to erect a suitable place of worship for the Catholic population.

...ore current ... those of the banks, we find the wags are not idle, but are, in various ways, hitting off the absurdities of the times, to the no small amusement of the few people still left with their heads in their usual places.

Among other 'affairs' which the advent of Jenny has called into being, is a brochure, issued from the press of Appleton & Co., "taking off" the Jenny Lind Prize Poets and Prize Committee, with some clever imitations of Horace Smith. It is entitled 'Barnum's Parnassus,' and among its contents are (says The Tribune) 'A Volunteer Ode,' by the Acknowledged Best Song Writer, —not a Competitor; A Ballad, being a Voice from the Ho(l)mes of the Poets; Barnumopsis, and others. The character of the Songs presented in competition is evidently described after the author had emerged from a state of clairvoyance. The preface says:

"By a strange coincidence (as appeared from subsequent comparison of notes), for the first hour and a half every song opened by the Prize Committee began with 'Flag of the Free!' 'Home of the Brave!' or some analogous burst of patriotic enthusiasm. But the most interesting feature of the investigation was the attachment and devotion which it brought to light on the part of the entire body of American poets, male and female, to the American Eagle. That august bird was the subject of universal homage, adulation and illustration. The American Eagle was referred to by name in at least nine out of every ten songs examined by the Committee, and his peculiar habits and manners furnished the most inexhaustible fund for the exercise of the poetic genius in its descriptive, imaginative, pathetic and prophetic flights. The Eagle was represented, sometimes, as perched on the inaccessible peaks of the Rocky Mountains; occasionally he was seen making formidable attacks upon the British Lion: once, he appeared in full view with the island of Cuba hanging at his beak; but generally he was pictured in all his glory, soaring in general, to no particular place, and, once or twice, he went entirely out of sight."

The following 'Broadside' by a Boston Bard, is not bad:

BROADSIDE.

BY A BOSTON BARD.

I.

On my honor, five quite pretty men
You must be, you Prize-Committee men,
Sitting there with such effont'ry,
To decide who, forsooth,
Of a truth,
Is the Poet of the Country!
Just as if, you vain presumers,
Filled with narrow Gotham humors,
You could gauge Parnassus's summits
By your paltry lines and plummets;
Just as if the nine old Muses
Did as P. T. Barnum chooses,
Or as if his picked Committee
(More's the pity!)
Caught them in their flimsy nooses!

II.

Just as if we men of station,
Poets of consideration,
Wrapped in mental adumbration,
In the Athens of the Nation,
With a lofty consecration,
Nursing our own reputation,
And, by mutual laudation,
Warding off depreciation,
With a timely hush—
For your wretched arbitration,
Cared a rush!

III.

"I had a vision in my dreams,
I saw a row of twenty beams."
Thus once a Boston Poet wrote,
('Tis "The Dilemma" that I quote,)
But little recked how soon his thought
Its own interpretation wrought.
The twenty beams are in your eyes,
You five Committee men so wise,
Two in each eye that makes the score,
(For aught I know there's fifty more,)
But there you sit, the notes to find
That makes aspiring poets blind,
And fix upon the only one,
Whose vision can behold the sun!

IV.

Now really, you five song inspectors,
Doggerel readers and detectors,
Who on the hapless, harum scarum,
Frightened Corpus Poetarum,
Sit as surgeons and dissectors;
Tell me, do you really think
A Boston Bard would stoop to drink
At such a Helicon as rises
For any number of your prizes?
As well we might descend with yon,
To race along Third Avenue,
Or in the strife of buggies, goad
Our steeds along the Harlem road!
No, no, the only thing we'll do,
Poor New York authorlings for you,
Is, when a clever thing or two
Appears in any of your books,
We'll dress it up into good looks,
Give the sanction of our name,
(A clever thing in us Patricians)
And patronize it down to fame
In one of Ticknor's best editions!

V.

Well! work away, poor Prize Committee,
I've done!
It's wrong in me to be too witty,
When I have all the fun!
But if this song should be the best,
And you oblige me to choose it,
I'll add a chorus to the rest,
And see you mind and use it.

CHORUS OF BOSTON BARDS.

Don't bother us here with your Jenny Lind prize,
Nor to start up our Pegasus dream,
We have learned that the way to be wealthy and wise,
Is profoundly the rest of the world to despise,
And be rich in our own self esteem!

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE of California, District of the County of Santa Clara: Jose De Arnaz vs. Genoveva Garcia Mangel, Emanuel Mangel and Lorenzo Geoffrey. Petition to foreclose mortgage, &c.:

Whereas, JOSE DE ARNAZ filed in this Court on the 16th day of May, 1850, his petition, showing, among other things, that on the 20th day of December, 1849, Genoveva Garcia Mangel, the wife of Emanuel Mangel, was the owner in fee of a certain house and lot in San Jose, adjoining and in the rear of the house lately occupied by Messrs. Larrain, Benitez & Co., and fronting on Garcia street, did on that day mortgage the same, with the consent of Emanuel Mangel, her husband, to said Arnaz, to secure the sum of five hundred and sixty dollars, payable four months from date: That afterwards, on or about the 15th day of January, 1850, said Emanuel Mangel and Genoveva G. Mangel executed a mortgage on the same premises to one Geoffrey, of San Francisco, for about fourteen hundred dollars; which said mortgage was falsely dated the 19th of December, 1849, with intent to defeat the prior mortgage lien on said real estate, and to cheat and defraud said petitioner out of his debt. Said petitioner prays discovery and full answer to the above facts, that said mortgage to Geoffrey be set aside as fraudulent, and that said premises be sold to pay petitioners's mortgage, and for general relief.

And it being proved by affidavit to the satisfaction of this Court that Emanuel Mangel is a non-resident of this State, notice is hereby given to Emanuel Mangel to be and appear before the Honorable Court of the Third Judicial District, for the County of Santa Clara, on the fourth Monday of December, 1850, at the court house in San Jose, then and there to answer said petition, or, in default thereof, the allegation therein contained will be heard in your absence and decreed accordingly.

Given under my hand and private seal, there being no seal of office yet provided at this office, this 24th of May, A. D. 1850.
